Monthly Focus Topic

Step 5

Admitted to God, to ourselves, and to another human being the exact nature of our wrongs.

As a Catholic, admitting my wrongs to God is something I've long understood through the practice of confession. I name my faults, receive penance, and trust in forgiveness. These are often the tangible missteps—moments where I clearly recognize that I've done something wrong, whether I want to admit it or not.

But Step 5 asks something more of me.

It calls me beyond simply listing my actions. It asks for deeper soul-searching, for a level of honesty that can't be glossed over or rushed. This step isn't just about what I did—it's about why I did it, the patterns behind it, and the truths I may have avoided facing.

I believe my Higher Power already knows my wrongs and loves me anyway. That's not the hard part. The challenge of Step 5 is not informing God—it's revealing myself to myself.

There is something powerful about speaking these truths out loud. When I admit the exact nature of my wrongs—to God, to myself, and to another person—I step out of isolation. What was hidden begins to lose its grip. Shame softens. Clarity grows.

Step 5 becomes an act of connection.

It draws me closer to my Higher Power—not through ritual alone, but through honesty. It brings me closer to others, reminding me that I am not alone in my struggles. And perhaps most importantly, it brings me closer to my true self—the person I am when I stop hiding, rationalizing, or minimizing. In that space of truth, there is freedom.

Letting Go Saved Us Both

Years ago, I walked into Al-Anon. I had exhausted all my ideas and energy trying to defeat my husband's alcoholism, which I considered a weakness of character. I tried to keep it a secret within our four walls. I lost courage when, to my chagrin, he publicly displayed uncontrolled drunken behavior. My daughter, a medical student, mentioned that if I needed help, I could find it in Al-Anon meetings. I hesitated, and the waiting period was unbearable.

Meanwhile, my husband gradually lost hope of achieving sobriety on his own. Following the advice of one of his sober friends, he checked himself into a rehab program. He didn't last even two weeks. He begged to come home and then relapsed. That's when I began attending Al-Anon meetings. I got a Sponsor and persevered in applying the Steps and slogans. A lot of sleepless nights, tears, and worries continued, but eventually, I started to look at my husband with compassion, viewing him as a helpless person trapped in a bottle. I began to accept alcoholism as an illness. My brain fog started to clear. I found my Higher Power in the Al-Anon rooms and asked for guidance every day through every challenge.

I believe that changing my attitude and focusing on myself contributed to him finally finding sobriety. Today, I continue to attend Al-Anon meetings virtually as well as in person. Thanks to the worldwide fellowship, we are thriving!

My Disease

Before Al-Anon, I knew little outside of grief. My relationship with the addicted members of my family had transformed from frustration to obsession. Without realizing it, I had built a prison in my mind, where I was convinced that I was trapped and nothing would ever change.

My mother, who has been in the program for 30 years, listened to me complain, even as it ate into our time together. Finally, she said, "You sound like an addict." Only then did I see how my addiction to control, judgment, self-pity, anger, and dependence mimicked the signs of addiction to alcohol.

I found a meeting and have been going ever since. From the start, I knew it was where I needed to be. Without Al-Anon, my life would be terrible and completely unmanageable. Today I am someone who shares regularly in meetings and sponsors others. I now carry a sense of calm I haven't felt in decades!

ALATEEN MEETING

Are you a teen that has been affected by someone else's alcoholism? Do you believe no one could possibly understand how you feel? Do you cover up your real feelings by pretending you don't care? Do you feel neglected, uncared for, or unloved? Do you tell lies to cover up for someone else's drinking or what's happening in your home? There is hope! Alateen is a support group for teenagers whose lives have been impacted by someone else's alcoholism.

You Are Not Alone Alateen

Meetings every Sunday 6-7pm

Location:

Ages: 13 - 18

Only Alateen members, prospective Alateen members, and Alateen group sponsors are allowed to attend Alateen meetings. Adults are invited to attend Al-Anon meeting occurring at the same time at the same location. Al-Anon is a support group for anyone who has been affected by or is concerned about someone else's drinking.

What is Alateen?

Alateen is a place where teens come together to:

- Share experiences, strength, and hope with each other to find effective ways to cope with problems
- Discuss difficulties and encourage one another
- Help each other understand the principles of the Al-Anon program through the use of the Twelve Steps and Alateen's Twelve Traditions

Special note on Tradition Seven Donations Receipts

We are changing how we acknowledge receipt of donations from groups and members. We are doing this as a cost savings measure (postage, paper, toner expenses).

- For group donations, we will email the donation receipt to the “group representative” (GR) or “current mailing address” CMA (which we have on file). If your group prefers that we send the receipt to the group treasurer or someone else, please include a note with the check providing the email for that person.
- For personal, memorial, and appeal donations, please include a note with your email address.
- If you use Zelle to send a donation from your bank account to the RIAFG bank account, please include the email address in the memo/note box.

In gratitude,

Phyllis H.
RIAFG Treasurer

Step Twelve in Action: Ensure Hope Is Within Reach

During warmer weather, travelers and newcomers often search for Al-Anon support in unfamiliar places. When someone seeks an Al-Anon meeting, whether in person or virtually, accurate information becomes their lifeline. Keeping your group’s meeting time, location, virtual links, and Phone Contact for the Public details up to date is Step Twelve in action.

“When anyone, anywhere, reaches out for help, let the hand of Al-Anon and Alateen always be there, and—Let It Begin with Me.”

Sharing Area Highlights – WSC 2026

Rhode Island; Barbara W., RIAWSC Delegate Panel 64

Rhode Island is tiny, 37 miles wide by 48 miles long, and as Area 49, we have 3 districts, 34 in-person/hybrid meetings including one Spanish-speaking meeting and one Alateen meeting, and 10 online meetings. There has been a healthy increase in interest in service at the AWSC level and spirits are high!

Highlights

- RIAWSC Area 49 held two in-person assemblies, one in the Spring hosted by District 3 and one in the Fall hosted by District 1. Five additional AWSC meetings were held via Zoom or in hybrid format.
- RI Area World Service Committee is rocking! All but three service positions have been filled.
- The Budget is out of the red and into the black, thanks to member responses to fundraising efforts.
- Workshop Coordinators planned and held the annual all-day Al-Anon Workshop in October featuring Al-Anon and AA speakers, breakout sessions, and AA participation.
- Alateen Coordinator and Alateen Process Person worked hard to get Alateen up and running again post-Covid. RI has one new Alateen in-person meeting started and one that is in process.
- New Tech Coordinator position was created and filled.
- The Area held a successful Writing Workshop on Zoom and at the Annual Workshop.
- A Task Force for office accessibility has been established.
- The Rhode Island AA Convention with Al-Anon participation was sold out, there was an Al-Anon speaker, several Al-Anon meetings held, and literature available.

Challenges

- We are still looking for an Alternate Delegate, a Public Outreach Coordinator and a Forum Coordinator.
- There was no elected Delegate for 2025 and thankfully our chairperson attended WSC, doing double duty.
- We are working to figure out how to best support our Spanish-speaking group at assemblies and workshops.

75 Years, One Purpose

Tradition Five is my favorite tradition, it states that Al-Anon's one purpose is to help families of alcoholics and that I can be helped by working the 12 Steps, encouraging and understanding the alcoholic, and welcoming and giving comfort to other Al-Anon members.

By the time I walked into my first Al-Anon meeting in Chicago in 1992, I felt as though I had tried everything I could think of to get my alcoholic husband to act normally, to no avail. I was in deep despair, hopeless and in pain. I reached out for help by walking into that Al-Anon meeting, and it was such a relief to feel open to help for the first time in my life.

I had asked for help before but I never actually wanted feedback. I used my problems and extremely chaotic situations as topics of conversation to gain attention and shock and distance people. The "help" I received was never helpful so I nodded, smiled, and quickly and disdainfully discarded suggestions.

As I attended these early meetings, I realized I had found people who understood and whose sole purpose was to help me! I was gently helped indirectly by listening, sharing, working the 12 Steps, and reading literature. Al-Anon appeared set up to give me no reasons to criticize or reject what I was hearing, and no way to mess it up or fail at it. Al-Anon was my lifeline. Everyone was kind and I began to feel heard, "a part of" despite sharing my great imperfections, and it was a fantastic and new feeling. After a meeting, I felt poured back into my body. I began to understand the disease of alcoholism and that there were reasons for my struggles, and it all made sense. I learned to have more compassion for myself, my family, alcoholics, and friends and families of alcoholics.

Before Al-Anon, helping others gave me a reason for existing. In Al-Anon, I have learned to offer help without strings or resentment. I benefit myself by giving only what I am able to give, which in turn, benefits others in a healthier way.

Aversion to help is a primary way that I've been affected by the disease of alcoholism. I volunteered as third-year delegate to continue to give service when I can, to develop my ability to accept help from a mentor, a service sponsor and members, to try new scary things and to accept my imperfect humanity. Attending the WSC is yet another opportunity for me to show gratitude for the gift of the AI-Anon program through service.
